Ipsos MORI

YOUNG PEOPLE OMNIBUS

INFORMATION LEAFLET FOR YOUNG PEOPLE TAKING PART

What is the survey about?

The survey asks young people about a range of topics such as going to university in the future, tuition outside of school, climate change, the COVID-19 pandemic and gambling. To keep the survey short not all questions will be asked of all people taking part in the survey.

What will taking part involve?

Your teacher will tell you about the study and will then ask you to fill out a survey online which will take between 15 and 20 minutes. There are no right or wrong answers and it is not a test. You are not expected to have taken part in all of the things the survey asks about; we would just like to hear what you think.

Why is it important to take part?

Your help is really important in making sure we understand the lives of all young people. The results of the survey are used so that the right decisions are made about how to support and help young people.

Why was I selected to take part?

Your head teacher agreed for your school to take part, and your school and your class was chosen at random. You were not selected for any particular reason.

Will anyone see my answers?

We don't ask you to type in your name on the survey, so no one will know what answers you have given. No one at your school or anyone else will ever see your answers, and it will not be possible to identify any schools or pupils in the data or reports. It is important that you answer the questions honestly and in private. If you are completing the survey at school, please don't try to look at anyone else's answers.

What happens to the findings?

Some of the findings from the research will be published. You will not be identified in these reports. Ipsos MORI will store your information securely and the name of your school will not be passed on to any other organisation. This information will be securely deleted once the project is completed.

What happens if I do not want to take part?

If you do not want to take part in the survey or change your mind after you have read the introduction, please let your teacher know and they will arrange another activity for you to do. If there are any questions you don't want to answer, there will be an option to tick 'Prefer not to say'.

You won't be able to go back into your questionnaire on another occasion, so please complete the whole survey in one sitting.

What are my rights?

You can find information about your rights at https://ico.org.uk/for-the-public/. If you are not happy with the way we are processing your data, you have the right to lodge a complaint to the Information Commissioner's Office about our practices at https://ico.org.uk/concerns/, or you can call their helpline on 0303 123 1113.

Where can I get help or advice about any of the topics in the survey?

If you are worried about anything, please talk to your teacher, your school counsellor, or someone you trust. You can also contact:

- ChildLine (on 0800 11 11 or www.childline.org.uk) and speak to a counsellor in complete confidence. Calls are free and won't show on your bill.
- The Mix (on 0808 808 4994 or www.themix.org.uk) for free confidential advice for young people on a wide range of issues including gambling, smoking, drinking, drugs, health, and school.
- GamCare (on 0808 8020 133 or www.gamcare.org.uk) for free confidential help and advice for young people on any problems related to gambling. You can also contact the National Problem Gambling Clinic (020 7381 7722 or gambling.cnwl@nhs.net)

Where can I find more information about the research?

If you or your parents have any further questions about the study, please contact Kirsty Macleod, a member of the survey team, by email on UK-YPO2022@ipsos.com.

THANK YOU FOR HELPING WITH THIS IMPORTANT STUDY!

If you still have some time left, you might like to try this word search. The names of some pop stars are hidden amongst the letters below. Circle the names forwards, backwards, top to bottom or diagonally to find them.
