Ipsos UK's Annual Survey of Young People 2024 Privacy Policy

This Ipsos UK Survey and personal data

Young People Omnibus 2024 (23-082785)

This Privacy Notice explains who we are, the personal data we collect, how we use it, who we share it with, and what participant's legal rights are.

About Ipsos UK

- Market & Opinion Research International Limited is a specialist research agency, formerly known as "Ipsos UK MORI". Ipsos UK is part of the Ipsos UK worldwide group of companies, and a member of the Market Research Society. As such we abide by the Market Research Society Code of Conduct and associated regulations and guidelines.

What is Ipsos UK's legal basis for processing personal data?

- Ipsos UK requires a legal basis to process participant personal data. Ipsos UK's legal basis for processing is participant consent to take part in this research survey. If participants wish to withdraw their consent at any time, please see the section below covering 'Participant Rights'.

How will Ipsos UK use any personal data including survey responses you provide?

- Firstly, responding to this survey is entirely voluntary and any answers are given with participant consent.
- This study is funded by our clients which this year include The Sutton Trust, The Department for Education, The Royal Meteorological Society, and The Gambling Commission. Our clients will receive the findings and may choose to publish them.
- Ipsos UK will keep participant responses in strict confidence in accordance with this Privacy Policy. Ipsos UK can assure you that participants will NOT be identifiable to any of our clients or in any published results.
- Ipsos UK will use participant personal data and responses solely for research purposes and to produce anonymous, statistical research findings and insights.

How will Ipsos UK ensure my personal information is secure?

- Ipsos UK takes its information security responsibilities seriously and applies various precautions to ensure participant information is protected from loss, theft or misuse. Security precautions include appropriate physical security of offices and controlled and limited access to computer systems.

- Ipsos UK has regular internal and external audits of its information security controls and working practices and is accredited to the International Standard for Information Security, ISO 27001.
- We can assure you that any information you provide during this research will NOT be used for marketing, nor will we sell or pass on your information to any third party.

How long will Ipsos UK retain personal data and identifiable responses?

- For this survey, no individual identifying information is collected.
- Personal data (such as gender, age and ethnicity) will be securely removed from our systems once the project has been completed. In practice, this means that once we have satisfactorily reported the anonymous research findings, we will securely remove personal data from our systems.

Participants' rights

- Providing responses to this survey is entirely voluntary and is done so with participant consent.
- Participants have the right to withdraw their consent to participate in the research at any point during the survey. If participants want to exercise their rights, please contact us at the below Ipsos UK address.
- Participants have the right to lodge a complaint with the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO), if they have concerns on how we have processed any personal data. You can find details about how to contact the Information Commissioner's Office at https://ico.org.uk/global/contact-us/ or by sending an email to: casework@ico.org.uk.

How can you get access to your information and/or correct it?

- Ipsos UK cannot provide a copy of your responses to this research, as this survey is fully anonymised. For further details, please contact our Compliance Department. Methods for contacting our Compliance Department are given below.

Where will personal data be held & processed?

- All participant personal data used and collected for this survey will be stored by Ipsos UK in data centres and servers within the United Kingdom and EEA.

Does this survey use Cookies?

- Some on-line surveys collect information through the use of 'cookies'. These are small files stored on your computer. These files are used as sparingly as possible and only for quality control, validation and, more importantly, to prevent us sending you reminders for an on-line survey you have already completed. It is possible for you to delete 'cookies' or to prevent their use by adjusting the browser settings on your computer.
- We also automatically capture information about your operating system, display settings and browser type in order to ensure that the survey questionnaire is delivered in a form suited to the software your computer is using. We do not capture any other information from your computer.

How can I contact Ipsos UK about this survey and/or personal data?

If you have any questions about this research, please contact the research team. They can be contacted by email sent to UK-PA-YPO2024@ipsos.com . You can also contact us by letter at: YPO Team, Ipsos UK, Floor 1, 3 Thomas More Square, London, E1W 1YW. However, please note that there could be a considerable delay in letters being received at the present time, and we would prefer contact by email so that we can respond quickly.

If you have any questions or require further information our privacy policy, our compliance with data protection laws or information we hold about you, please contact our Compliance Department. They can be contacted by email or post, details are given below:

Email: compliance@Ipsos.com with J23-082785 Young People Omnibus 2024 in the email subject line

Post: J23-082785, Young People Omnibus 2024
Data Protection Officer
Compliance Department
Ipsos UK
3 Thomas More Square
London E1W 1YW

Changes to this privacy policy:
We keep our privacy policy under regular review and this policy was last updated on the 1st August 2022.

Useful Links:
Ipsos UK: www.Ipsos.com/en-uk

Information Commissioners Office: www.ico.org.uk

Market Research Society: www.mrs.org.uk